A chic Beverly Hills beauty brand is expanding its footprint in Houston. Beverly Hills Rejuvenation Center has signed a deal to lease space in the River Oaks Shopping Center, according to Weingarten Realty.

The spa will unfold across just more than 1,900 square feet, bringing its non-surgical aesthetic treatments and advanced bio-identical hormone replacement therapy, and non-surgical aesthetic treatments to the trendy retail space.

The brand already has an outpost in the Bayou City, over in CityCentre. Its primary focus is helping guests feel younger and giving them an alternative to surgical procedures. On the menu are services such as laser hair removal and skin tightening procedures, such as chemical peels, injectables, and skin resurfacing.
